

Press Release

Digital Project Practice for New Work and Industry 4.0

"This book is about practice, different perspectives, and various experiences from all around the globe!"
(Dr. Tobias Endress, editor and co-author)

Today, we announce that a new book "Digital Project Practice for New Work and Industry 4.0," edited by Tobias Endress is available for pre-order. This comprehensive guide offers a practical, experience-based approach to project management in the context of New Work and Industry 4.0.

As businesses adapt to the rapidly evolving digital landscape, this book provides a roadmap for success by critically examining existing approaches and practices, introducing appropriate methods and covering human and social aspects. The book explores the impact of Industry 4.0 on organizational communication and the work environment, the possibilities and challenges of remote work and collaboration, and the implications for the workplace, including the potential demand for "Digital Unions."

The book also addresses the human impact of New Work, exploring topics such as digital stress and strategies for coping, and the economics of mind, body, and spirit. With contributions from experts around the globe, this book will contribute to the ongoing discussion on business practices and methods and stimulate dialogue in the professional community.

"Digital Project Practice for New Work and Industry 4.0" is available for pre-order on February 8, 2023. Item will ship after March 1, 2023.

Digital Project Practice by Tobias Endress (editor) can be ordered directly from Routledge \(Taylor & Francis\) press or with ISBN 978-100-337139-7 in your local book store.

Further information on the book can be found at www.digital-project-practice.com.

More information:

- To purchase a print version of this book for personal use or request an inspection copy go to Routledge.com
- For instructional access please check Taylorfrancis.com